

PASAI hosts Stakeholder Engagement Strategy workshop in Guam

The Pacific Association of Supreme Audit Institutions (PASAI) successfully delivered a four-day Stakeholder Engagement Strategy (SES) workshop on November 17-20, 2025 at the Office of Public Accountability in Guam. The event brought representatives from audit offices across the Northern Pacific, including a staff member from the Office of the National Public Auditor (ONPA), who joined other participants in learning new approaches to strengthen stakeholder communication and engagement.

This workshop supports PASAI's 2024–2034 strategy, which places strong emphasis on developing well-governed, independent audit offices with effective communication practices and robust stakeholder relationships. The program focused on strengthening external engagement to improve audit impact, transparency, and public trust.

The Office of the National Public Auditor extends its sincere appreciation to PASAI for organizing this highly valuable workshop and to all participating audit offices for their active involvement and generous knowledge sharing.
